

Larry has become an...

Accredited Associate of The Institute for Independent Business

In January, I graduated from the Residential Business School sponsored by the Institute for Independent Business. The IIB is a non-profit based in Great Britain with a mission to support small and medium size businesses with expert counsel and “practical advice that matters.” There are over 4,500 accredited associates from all over the globe representing every kind of business and expertise imaginable.

Part of my commitment as an Accredited Associate is to meet with business owners at no cost to learn about their particular challenges, review their future plans, and point them toward possible solutions or expert guidance from the IIB network. Very few business owners have someone they can confide in—particularly someone who understands the unique pressures of owning a business.

Check out the websites below and give me a call or send me an email. I'd love to hear from you.

<http://www.iib.ws/>

Bangs Business Coaching building visionary companies

720.304.8711

www.bangsbizcoach.com

If you know someone who owns and manages their own business and would be willing to introduce or refer me to them, I would appreciate it greatly.

